10. Which kind of AP class could be taken by bilingual students?

The AP program is a nationally recognized, successful strategy for introducing students to the challenges of college-level coursework, while they are still in high school. The AP program, is structured so that high schools can offer college level and provides an opportunity for students enrolled in AP courses and others who have completed related honors courses. A review of data reveals that an increased number of high schools are offering the full complement of Advanced Placement core courses.

Examinations are scored on a scale ranging from one to five (1: no recommendation, 2: possibly qualified, 3: qualified, 4: well qualified, and 5: extremely well qualified).

Students who believe they will be successful on the AP examinations based on participation in other rigorous academic curriculum, such as International Baccalaureate (IB) classes, may sit for the examination even though they are not enrolled in AP courses. Examination dates are determined by the College Board and are scheduled in May.
